

May 13, 1941.

Mr. T. J. Young,
1237 Pratt St.,
Wichita, Kansas.

Dear Young:

Received your nice wire, thanks a lot for it. Those sort of things go along ways towards making you forget your baseball yeadaches.

The Opening was a huge success so far as the crowd was concerned, we had to close the gates as all seats were sold by the time the game was started. As big success as the crowd was, the Team looked just as bad as the crowd did good, they were hustling hard, but it looked to me like one of those things that can't be explained. The Eagles got seven earned runs, three home runs included and they were hustling their heads off, but Day did not have anything and Mackey kept him in until the game was lost, about the eighth inning. Our keystone combination is weak, but that did not lose the game by any means, the final score was 10-7.

I am writing to tell you we are playing The Phila Stars here a doubleheader this coming Sunday, May 18th. I see where Brewer won his game last Sunday in New York. I thought you might like to get here in time for Sunday, if not, please let me know when to expect you.

Hope you found everything at home all right, and you are still in condition.

Very truly yours,

EM:CCJ